THE

VISITATIONS OF CORNWALL,

COMPRISING

THE HERALDS' VISITATIONS OF 1530, 1573, & 1620.

WITH ADDITIONS BY

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL J. L. VIVIAN.

EXETER: WILLIAM POLLARD & Co., NORTH STREET.
1887.

PREFACE.

The small amount of space available obliges me to curtail my remarks, and in offering the VISITATIONS OF THE COUNTY OF CORNWALL to my Subscribers, I would crave their kind indulgence for my crude efforts, and probably many errors, and also for the great delay, caused by the loss of many valuable notes and memoranda by fire, severe family affliction, and long and continued ill-health.

The pedigrees contained in the Heralds' Visitations have been reproduced from the drafts contained in the Harleian Collection preserved in the British Museum, the College of Arms, and other sources, but as the authorities for each pedigree are given either in the pedigree itself or in the foot notes, it is unnecessary to state them here. The pedigrees printed in italics are exact reproductions of the Heralds' Visitations, and complaints having been received during the progress of the work as to the spelling of family names, I may observe that the spelling is in all cases that of the draft, and proves that at that time the use of letters, such as i and y, in names made no real distinction as to family connection. Coming nearer home, I may refer to a will in the Vivian family, in which the name of the testator begins as Vyvyan and the signature is Vivian, while the names of the sons are spelled differently in each case; in fact, the spelling of family names followed no fixed rule.

I cannot conclude these few remarks without acknowledging the obligations I am under to the Clergy of the County of Cornwall, with, I am happy to say, only two exceptions, and to those of Devonshire to whom I have had occasion to apply, for permission to search and make extracts from Parish Registers, to the officials of the Public Record Office, and the Principal Probate Registry, London, Bodmin and Exeter. To give a list of names would fill far more space than is at my service. I must therefore confine myself to the mention more particularly of Arthur Burch, Esq.; J. C. Crabb, Esq.; G. E. Cockayne, Esq., Lancaster Herald; H. H. Drake, Esq., LL.D.; the Rev. S. Baring Gould; A. J. Jewers, Esq., F.S.A.; W. E. Mugford, Esq.; and Sir Albert W. Woods, Garter, Principal King at Arms; who have rendered me most valuable advice and assistance; and Captain J. W. Glubb, who has compiled a most valuable Index.

In taking leave of my Subscribers, I wish to thank them for their patience at the delay, and to express the hope that they will be pleased with the result of my labours.

J. L. VIVIAN.

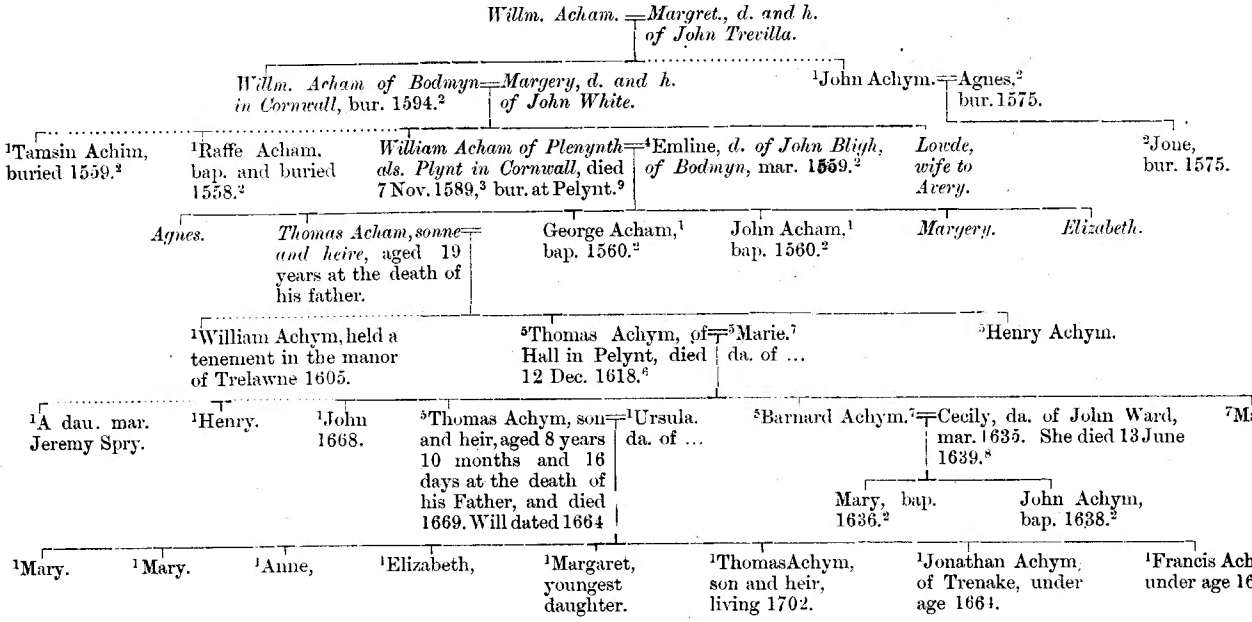
THE VISITATIONS OF THE COUNTY OF CORNWALL.

ACHYM OF PELYNT.

ARMS :—Arg., a maunch within a bordure Sa. charged with eight cinquefoils of the field.
CREST : A Lion sejant Or, collared and lined Sa.



* The portion of this pedigree printed in italic is copied from Harl. MS. 1079, and corresponds with the Visitation of Cornwall, 1620, in Coll. of Arms. The additions are printed in ordinary type.

[1] All so noted are additions from Sir John Maclean's Hist. of Trigg Minor, vol. i, p. 291.

[5] All so noted are named in Chancery Proceedings, Miscell. Series, 1. P. 25, No. 5, 1623. Barnard and Thomas, infant sons of Thomas Achim and Mary his wife, by Sir Francis Fulford, Kt. v. Sir Barnard Grenville, Kt., Francis Buller, and John Trelawney Esquires, a moiety of Treley part of the Manor of Trelawne, granted by Sir John Pollard to Thomas Achim, Esq., father of Orators Barnard and Thomas, Henry Achim, Gent., their uncle, and one Christopher Beil.

[6] Inq. p.m. 18 Jas. I, Wards and Liveries, B. 27, No. 84.

[7] Named in Chancery Proceedings, Miscell. Series, 2. G, No. 3, 1620, Mary Achim of Pelynt Widow v. Sir Barnard Grenville Kt. and others, a moiety of Treley part of the Manor of Trelawne, granted by Henry Pollard to Mary Achim, widow of Thomas, and Barnard and Mary, her son and daughter.

[8] Monument in Bodmin Church Arms:—Arg., semée of cinquefoils a maunch Gu.

[9] M.I. Pelynt.
14 July 1657, Adm. granted to Alice widow of Gilbert Achym of Camborne dec. Act Book, P.C.C.

 It is most probable that Thomas and Barnard Achym and their sister Mary named in the Chancery Proceedings, Notes 5 and 7, were the only children of Thomas Achym and Mary his wife. John, 1668, was most probably the son of Barnard; and Henry, the uncle named in Chanc. Proceedings, Note 5. The daughter married to Jeremy Spry was no doubt Mary, named in Chanc Proc., Note 7.

ARUNDELL OF LANHERNE.

    - A dau., ma. Richard Crispin, who had with her Hempston Arundell (Pole's Devon).
  - [1]Sir Nicholas de Arundell. — Jone, (Pole's Devon.)
- [6]Ralph Arundell, Rector of St. Columb Major, resigned the living A.D. 1309. Bp. Stapledon's Reg., Exeter, p. 46.

* The portion of this pedigree printed in italic is the original Visitation of Cornwall, 1620. The remainder of the pedigree is compiled from evidences which are given. The Arundell pedigree is very confused for the first three generations, and the Editor has not been able to procure any reliable evidence which would warrant his altering them, he therefore presents them as from the Coll. of Arms and the pedigree given at Wardour Castle. As an instance in proof of incorrectness it may be stated that Gilbert A. de Foresta and Rosamond his wife were living and parties to proceedings, 44 Hen. III. at least 150 years after the period in which they appear on the pedigree. See Note 5. The descent from Sir Renfrey, who married Alice de Lanherne, may be relied upon as correct and proved by clear evidence. The descent as given in Poles' Devon runs thus. Ralph Arundell lived 15 Stephen, and had issue Renfry, who had issue Sir Ralph, who had issue Sir Renfry who mar. Alice, da. of Sir John Lanherne.

[1] From Coll. of Arms.
[2] Descent given Rott. Litt. Claus., 17th King John, M. 10.
[3] Held lands as widow of Will. Arundell in Cornwall, Rot. Cancell. 3 King John.
[4] It is probable that Sir Renfry mar. two wives, the first being Joan da. of Sir Lawrence Dynesel, and that Otho and Lawrence Arundell were issue of the first wife; there are various authorities for this.
[5] Ralph de Arundell recovered seizin of John de Umfravile and Alice his wife in Bishop's Morchard, &c., co. Devon. Rot. Originalium, 19 Edward I, Roll 25. Radulphus de Arundell qu. Gilbert de la Foresta and Rosamond his wife def. In Nansmael. Ped. Fin., 46 Henry III, No. 7. Rosamond de la Foresta held one great fee in Trenansleye. Brevia. Cornub. 31st Edward I $\frac{8}{2}$7.

C

* The portion of this pedigree thus noted is a copy of one by Cooke, Clarencieux, 1573, Harl. MS. 4031, with considerable additions.

[1] Sir Oliver is stated by some authorities to have been a son of Sir Renfry Arundell of Trefry, who mar. Alice Lanherne, and it is certain that there must have been a very close connection between the families. Sir Oliver and Odo Arundell were parties to deeds with Sir Renfry in the latter part of Hen. III, and early part of Edward I reign. 31 Edw. I, Lawrence de Arundell appears to have had ward of Ralph, son and heir of Sir Oliver, see note 2.

Ex è Rot. Fin. 55 Hen. III., m. 1, Cornw. Oliverus de Arundell et Margeria ux. eiuś, dant dimid. manor, etc.

[2] Brev. Cornub. 31 Edw. I., 87/2. Ralph, son of Oliver de Arundell, held one knight's fee which his ancestors held in Trekynnen in Trigg.

Cor. Reg. Cornw. 31 Edw. I., Hill., m. 172. The jury present Roger de Ingepenne, Viscomes Cornubiæ, among other offences, for forcibly entering the house of Caryhayes, and breaking open the coffer of Ralph, son of Oliver de Arundell, which was sealed with the seals of the Archdeacon of Cornwall and Lawrence de Arundell, and taking away one silver cup value 10s., and another value 40s., together with deeds, etc.

[3] Segar says Randell (Ralph) Arundell mar. Elizabeth, da. and heir of John Stewart (Seneschall) and had a son Ralph, mar. to Jane, da. and heir of Michael Trerice, temp. Edw. III, and that his son Nicholas continued the line, and this is the ped. given by Cooke, Clarencieux 1573. Harl. M.S. 4031, fo. 274, gives two wives to Ralph, son of Oliver, but only mentions the name of one, viz., Elizabeth Seneschal, and then continues the line from a son, John, without noticing a second Ralph, who must, however, have existed, as in proceedings Cor. Reg. Cornw. 50 Edw. III, Trin., m. 120, John Tynton v. William Lambron Chivaler and Johanna his wife, it is complained that Will. and Johanna had abducted Nicholas, son and heir of Ralph Arundell of Trerice, a minor in ward of John Tynton. The descent from Ralph Arundell through a son John is possibly from the other wife alluded to before, and is given as a line of which no further trace can be found. By deed dated 2 Mar. 32 Edw. III, Sir John Arundel of Lanherne granted to his cousin Ralph Arundell of Trerice lands in Caerunvor and Dunsfold (Deeds at Wardour Castle) Ped. fin. Cornw. 33 Edward III, No. 7, Ralph Arundell of Trerise and Johane his wife qu. Sir John Arundell and John Soor def.: Govileymur. Govileybighan. Fentongok, Polscoth, Trerees, &c., were settled on Ralph Arundell and Johane his wife, and their heirs for ever, rem. to the right heirs of Sir John Arundell.

[4] Nicholas, son and heir of Ralph Arundell of Trerice, see note 3.

[5] Ped. fin. 1 Hen V., Cornw. No 1. Sir Nicholas Trerys and Margaret his wife qu. Sir John Arundell of Trerys and Johana his wife def. Tregantallan, Trenans, etc.

[6] Inq. 3 Edw. IV, No. 26, Nicholas Arundell of Trerice, settlement of lands on Johanna his wife.

[3] This descent is given in Chancery proceedings, B. & A., Eliz., A.D. 1571, B. B. 21, No. 16, and W. W. 20, No. 33, Rich. Billing, al's Trelawder, probably lived at Trelawder in St. Minver, and was second son of Thomas Billing. This name of Trelawder appears to have been also used by Billing of Hanger, William Billing of that place, who died 1602, being styled in the Inquisition taken at his death William Billing, alias Trelawder.

* The portion of this pedigree printed in italic is a copy of the Original Visitation of Cornwall 1620, Harl. MS. 1162, the two pedigrees there given and signed respectively by Thomas and John Bonython being connected.

[1] An Inq. p.m. James Erissy 34 Hen. VIII, No. 62 (Coles Esch. Harl. MS. 757, p. 38) names his grandfather Thomas Erissey and Elizabeth his wife, with their daughter Elizabeth married to Ralph Bonithon, and two sons John Bonithon, who died s.p., and Edmond Bonithon. Probably this Elizabeth was Erissy's daughter or she was the first wife.

 The portion of this pedigree printed in italic is a copy of the Original Visitation of Cornwall 1620.

[1] Called Nicholas in a pedigree in Coll. of Arms.
[2] This from Visitation of Somersetshire, Harl. MS. 1559.
[3] This from Visitation of Cornwall 1573 by Cooke.
[4] Called a daughter of John Portman, Harl. MSS. 1385 and 1559.
[5] Harl. MS, 1079.
[6] From Coll. of Arms.
[7] The pedigree in Coll. of Arms gives him four brothers, Robert, Edmond, Benjamin and Richard. This, however, is an error, as John is described in the Inquisition taken at his father's death as son and heir "in ventris matri" at the time of his father's death. These were no doubt his sons.

 The portion of this pedigree down to the italic is from Harl. MSS. 1091, fo. 19, and Coll. of Arms. The Original Visitation of Cornwall 1620, Harl. MS. 1162, is printed in italic, and the pedigree bears the signature of John Coke.

The Editor has been unable to trace this family with any certainty, owing to the loss of St. Allen Parish Registers previous to 1680, but it appears certain there were at least two families of the name, which was of frequent occurrence in the Registers of St. Columb and neighbouring Parishes.

 The portion of this pedigree in italic is a copy of the Original Visitation of Cornwall 1620, Harl. MS. 1162, signed by John Dagge. A note by the Herald states that the pedigree was "Taken out of an old paper pedegre written in a very auntient hand, remaining in the custodie of John Dagg of Trewegett in Com. Cornub. the 2 of October a° D'ni 1620."

* A pedigree supposed to descend from this John Dagg is given in The Hist. of Trigg Minor, vol. iii, p. 165. It is not clearly connected, and is therefore not printed here.

[3] In the Coode pedigree, ante p. 94, Piers Edgcombe is said to have married Johanna da. and coh. of John Durnford and sister of Alice, who mar. Richard Coode; if such a marriage took place, which is doubtful, it must have been another member of the family. Sir Piers Edgcumbe married Johanna the only da. and heir of James Dernford, and thus obtained the Manor of Rame, East Stonehouse, and other lands in Cornwall and Devon.

Edward Hill, son and heir, aged 30 and more at his father's death. = Margaret, da. of William Rogerson of Stockton, co. Salop, Bachelor of Theology, named in the Inq. taken on the death of her father-in-law, Edw. Hill.

 The portion of this pedigree printed in italic is a copy of the Original Visitation of Cornwall, 1620, Harl. MS. 1162, signed William Hill. This is not really a Cornish pedigree, although it appears in the Visitation, but it is given here as probably showing the main branch of the Hills of the West of England. Hill Top alias Pyneley, or Pinley, appears to be situated in Warwickshire.

 This pedigree down to the italic, where not otherwise noted, is from College of Arms. The portion printed in italic is a copy of the Original Visitation of Cornwall 1620, Harl. MS. 1162, signed Humphrye Hyll. It is worthy of note that the Arms given to Hill of Hunston and Spraxton in the Visitation of Somerset, Harl. MS. 1385, fo. 7, are Gu. a chevron between three garbs, Arg.

[4] The pedigree in the Coll. of Arms gives this Matilda as second wife of John Hill of Hunston (Spraxton), but John Hill died leaving a daughter and heir Jenopath (or Jenopher), clearly proving that he had no male heir. Probably it was a brother who married the daughter of Sir Giles Daubeny, and thus the descent.

      - Kathleen Elizabeth, born 1848, mar. 1869 to W. S. Collard.

 The family of Hoblyn is of considerable antiquity in the County of Cornwall, and is supposed by some to be derived from Belinus, a British chief or king, but the earliest mention of the name met with in the Public Records is in the reign of Edward III, when Robert Herres prosecuted a suit against William Hobelyn, in respect of lands in Cornwall. The portion of the pedigree now given not verified by wills or other evidence, has been compiled from family evidences clearly showing the descent to the present day.

 The portion printed in italic is a copy of the pedigree contained in the Visitation of Cornwall 1573, Harl. MS. 1079, and Coll. of Arms, which is not continued in the Original Visitation of 1620.

[1] The St. Buryan Registers prior to 1653 being lost, and the Registers of Newlyn in Pyder not accessible, the Editor has in consequence been unable to continue the pedigree. The name appears to have changed to Tresillian, and the family is now extinct in the male line.

 The portion of this pedigree in italic is a copy of the Original Visitation of Cornwall 1620, Harl. MS. 1162, signed William Aleigh. This appears to have been a branch of the family of Leigh, or Legh, of the East Hall in Highleigh, Cheshire. The arms are identical, but the Editor has been unable to trace the connection. In Week St. Mary Registers the name is spelt indiscriminately Aleigh, Alleigh, Alee, and Leigh, but since 1700 it has been always Leigh. In January, 1694, Walter Leigh was a party with others to an arrangement for a survey of the parish boundaries to Whitstone.

 This family is supposed to have descended from a younger son of Ley, alias Kempthorne, of Morwenstow, and settled originally at Cury, where Grace Kempthorne, widow, was buried in 1610. Her issue were most probably baptised at Cury, but the Parish Registers being lost, and the Transcripts at Exeter being deficient, it is impossible to throw any light upon this. The frequent occurrence of the Christian names of Ambrose and Renatus in the Registers would point to the possibility of a marriage with a daughter of Bellot of Bochym in Cury. The family settled at Mullion early in the seventeenth century, and the pedigree has been compiled from family papers and other evidences.

B

 The portion of this pedigree printed in italic is a copy of the Original Visitation of Cornwall 1620, Harl. MS 1162, signed Jonathan Rashleighe. The family of Rashleigh is most probably descended from John Bray alias Raysshelegh or Rashleigh of Barnstaple, temp. Rich. II. Escheator's Inq., 21 Hen. VIII, gives a descent of five generations, from 1398 to John Rashleigh, son and heir of Robert Rashleigh, and aged 25 years on the death of his grandfather John Rashleigh, 12 June, 1529. Philip Rashleigh is named in the Inquisition, no doubt Philip who heads this pedigree.

[1] This John Rogers has been supposed by some to be a son of Reginald Rogers of Lanke, but the pedigree of that family does not show that he had more than one son Richard. As we find this family seated in Crowan parish, immediately adjoining Breage, early in the seventeenth century, it is not improbable that they descended from Thomas Rogers of Lanke, who married the daughter of Trewawas (Trewavas) in Breage, and presumably settled upon lands obtained through the marriage. Be this as it may, there can be little doubt of the connection between the families.

[4] It is stated by some authorities that Charles Tredeneck was twice married, and had seven children by his first and five by his second wife, but the Editor has been unable to find any proof of this.
[5] By his will he charges his Extrix. to preserve the deeds and writings of his ancestors, Robert, Christopher, John, and Charles Tredeneck, for his right heirs and inheritors.

The family of Tredeneck became extinct in the parish of St. Breock temp. Charles II, when the estates were sold. Dunveth, one of the estates, was sold by Lewis Tredeneck to Robert Wilton. A family of Tredeneck of Camlin Castle, co. Fermanagh, Ireland, claims descent from this family (vide Burke's Landed Gentry), and the name is still represented in Cornwall.

 In illustration of the changes frequently to be met with in the names of Cornish families, it may be noted that the name of Joll is an abbreviation of Jolliffe, vide page 244. The families bore the same Christian names and lived in adjoining parishes. George Jolliffe, Vicar of Lewannick, will pro. 1593 at Exeter, had a son Timothy married at Fowey 1576 to Jane Martin in the name of Jollif. Their son William was baptised 1582 as son of Timothy Jolly, and their son Francis in 1583 as son of Timothy Joliffe. Hals mentions Peter Jowle or Jouell (i.e., Peter the Devil), deacon of Alternon Church temp. Chas. II, who was above 150 years old when he died. When 100 years old, new black hair sprung from his head and new teeth grew in his jaws in place of those he had lost. Taking this for what it is worth, it is a curious fact that numerous members of this family have lived to a very advanced age. The name of Jolliffe has been corrupted and abbreviated in many ways, as Jollow, Jollye, Jolla, Joli, Jowel, Juyl, &c. John Jowel was M.P. for Bodmin 1371.

 The family of Crabb is of great antiquity and frequently appears in early records, generally in connection with the sea, and referred to either as "eminent seaman" or "famous pirate." The name first occurs in Rot. Litt. Claus., vol. i, p. 193, 16 John, and in Harl. MS. 636 there is a curious account of the capture and death of Eustace le Monk and the destruction of the French fleet by one Stephen Crabbe, A.D. 1216, which probably accounts for the assumption of the significant arms borne by the Cornish branch of the family. A few years later (9 Hen. III) the Bailiffs of Southampton were ordered to buy cordage, &c. "for the Kings great ship at Portsmouth" under his inspection (Rott. Lit. Claus., vol. ii, p. 50), and several payments made to him from the Royal Treasury are recorded in the same volume. On 15 March, 15 Edw. III, "the custodian of the forest this side the Trent" is ordered to supply John Crabb with all necessary material for making military engines "pro guerrâ nostra," and the name is frequently mentioned as naval and military engineers employed in the wars of the Edwards, (Fœdera, vol. ii, pars. 2, p. 1153; vol. iii, pars. 1, p. 134; and Rot. Orig. in Scac., vol. ii, pp. 15, 85), varied by an occasional complaint from the Sovereign of depredations on the high seas in time of peace and friendship. (Fœdera, vol, ii, pars. 1, p. 210, 6 Edw. II, and Excheq. Rolls, Scotland, vol. i, p. LXXXII).

The family was early settled in Cornwall, as we find Stephen Crabb witness to deeds in Bishop Bronscombe's Registers (fo. 50 and 51, A.D. 1258 to 1280) regarding lands in St. Germans, and Ivo Crabbe returned for the Borough of Bodmin in the Parliament of 34-35 Edw. III. Stephen Crabb appears as making oath before the Steward of the King's lands at an Inquisition held at Stoke Climsland, 8 Sep., 5 Edw. III., and again in the Roll of the Seizin taken the eleventh year of the same reign, on the annexation of Launceston Castle to the Duchy of Cornwall, as one of the holders of the curious Wayternefe rents or dues, and holding suit therefor according to custom at the gate of the Castle. Although the eldest male line disappears with the death of the heir at the siege of Bristol in the service of the King, others of the family appear to have joined the Puritans, and were amongst the first settlers in New England, John Crabb being reported as arriving in the "Mary and John" in 1630, and Richard Crabb being elected as Deputy to the first General Assembly of Connecticut in 1639. There are few parishes, if any, in Devon or Cornwall, bordering the sea, in which the name of Crabb does not appear in the Registers.

 This pedigree has been compiled by the Rev. William Iago of Westheath from evidence in his possession. The Christian name of Cowbridge was adopted in the family in consequence of Ursula Tracy, wife of William Jago, having been niece of Jane, wife of the Rev. John Cowbridge of Penryn, who was ejected from St. Antony in 1662. Shenstone formed a lasting friendship with his schoolfellow at Solihull, the Rev. Richard Jago, junior. His published works bear testimony to his great regard for Jago and his family. Concerning the Rev. Richard Jago, senior, and Margaret his wife, Shenstone wrote Letter No. 7, and described Mr. Jago as "one of the best of men." He eulogized R. Jago, junior, and his writings in many of his letters (Nos. 80, 95, &c.) and addressed to him Elegy XI, "Ah! me my friend." He wrote to him in such terms as "Tu comes, Tu primis junctus ab annis" (Letter 108); and at the Leasowes (his seat in Shropshire) placed this inscription, "Amicitiæ et Meritis Richardi Jago." (See also Letters 78, 79, 80). Shenstone styled Dorothea Susanna (Jago's wife) "Elegantissima puella" (Letter 49). Margaret her successor, and Susanna Malkin (Jago's daughter) are also mentioned by him in his Letters 83, 95, 110, &c. Shenstone died one month after writing Letter No. 111 to Richard Jago. (See vol. iii of Shenstone's works). Jago's printed works and MSS. are preserved by the Rev. W. Iago of Bodmin.

SUPPLEMENTARY ADDENDA AND CORRIGENDA.

Bastard Ped.—Page 20. Last line at bottom of page, under William Bastard, after the words "death of his father" for 1634 read 1635.

Coryton Ped.—Page 102. The date of Sir William Coryton's marriage to Susanna Littleton should be 11 Dec. 1688, not 14 Jan. 1689; her name was not Sarah, as stated in Corrigenda, page 638, nor does she appear to have been remarried to Sir Nicholas Trevanion, whose wife was bur. at St Germans as Dame Sarah.

Courtenay Ped.—Page 108. Fourth descent, Catherine who married Thomas Rogers, was daughter of Sir Philip Courtenay of Powderham and Elizabeth Hungeford, not of Sir William. Page 109. Second descent, Elizabeth da. of Sir George Sydendam was wife of Sir William Courtenay, not of his son George.

Darrell Ped.—Page 135. Note 1 is not clearly expressed.
